INSPECTOR HAS ORDERS TO ACT AS POSTMASTER

Secretary Hoover's Report Reveals Advance in Agri- culture Prices, Begin- ning of Sound Policies in General Reparations and Recovery of American Industry.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The advance in agriculture prices, the beginning of sound policies in general reparations and the recovery of American industry aside from agriculture, were characterized as the three outstanding features of the past year in a review of business conditions made public today by Secretary Hoover.

While there was some slackening in activity in some lines during the latter part of the fiscal year, the review said, there has since been a complete recovery.

"The increasing stability in agriculture," the secretary said, "is further marked by the fact that wholesale prices of food products show a continuing decrease in spread as compared to farm prices. The rise in agriculture prices, which in a large measure due to general world economic readjustment and to settlement of European economic conflicts has been favored to some degree by some local and special cause for a reduction in crop, and a normal world wheat crop of 1925 swung over to a slightly subnormal crop of 1924."

Secretary Hoover declared transportation facilities for the past year were adequate in every respect. He pointed to the greater stability of foreign currency as a big help to the uplift of agriculture.

The foreign trade of the nation so improved during the fiscal year, the secretary said, that America's favorable trade balance increased from $176,000,000 in 1923 to $757,000,000 in 1924. This was partially because of the trade with South America and Asia.

JERSEY CITY HAS ANOTHER SERIOUS FIRE

Waterfront Property Wiped Out by New $1,500,000 Conflagration.

(By The Associated Press)
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 17.—Immediate reconstruction of Erie Railroad Company's waterfront property, wiped out by a $1,500,000 fire yesterday, was ordered today by J. J. Mantel, vice president and general manager of the road.

Even before the debris of two large railroad piers, fourteen river barges, a steam lighter and much valuable freight had cooled, Mr. Mantel directed wrecking crews to the scene.

Three firemen are in the hospitals seriously wounded. Captain George Albertson, of the New York Central tugboat Jackson, which with eight others from New York City responded to calls for assistance, was killed by a falling spar and may die. The other two were hit by flying debris and burned.

The fire, the second million dollar waterfront fire in the Jersey city, was noticed by a watchman who observed smoking in the piers. The entire Jersey City fire fighting force spread rapidly to the scene.

The Erie passenger terminal was threatened. Blazing barges were towed out into the Hudson river. Burning embers showered on to the roof of the adjacent warehouse of the American Express company in which were stored express packages valued by officials at $1,000,000. Even near the blazing piers were three steel express cars loaded with another million dollars of merchandise.

Two of the cars were pulled to safety but a third was unoccupied. The contents of the car and the warehouse were saved only by constant streams of water from at least six nozzles. One package in the car, company officials said, contained pearls valued at $136,000.

The cause of the fire remains unknown.

J. A. Malm, Aged Resident Is Dead

News was received here this morning of the death early today at the home of J. A. Malm, for thirty-five years a citizen of Danville but whose health had been steadily failing for the last eighteen months. The remains are coming to Danville and the funeral will take place at four o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the home of his son, John Malm, 322 Patton street, by Rev. J. C. Holland, interment to be in Green Hill cemetery.

Mr. Malm was 75 years of age and was born in Rockham county. He came to Danville as a young man and during his prime was successfully engaged as a carpenter. As age advanced he had lived with his wife here. He was married in 1904 but is survived by three children, John Malm of Danville, Mrs. W. C. Wynn of Roanoke, at present ill of influenza and unable to get here, and H. J. Malm of Norfolk.

TOWN TOPICS

Danville radio fans last night heard Franklin Kidd, formerly of this city, sing several vocal selections from station WEBB at Edgewater Beach, near Chicago. Atmospheric conditions were such that the reception was unusually clear, even on the smaller sets and scores of Danville people, previously notified of his scheduled appearance, were tuned in on that radio broadcasting station. Mr. Kidd sang "The Unknown Soldier," "Lark of the Air," and "Only You." It was announced that at the special request of the Danville boys' father that he would sing "When You and I Were Young Maggie" and another special number was sung, it was announced at the request of Mrs. Mary Pierce Clark of this city. Mr. Kidd has been in Danville and chautauqua work for several years. His mother, Mrs. F. O. Kidd, was a listener on the air here last night.

The city's new turbine has now been placed definitely in commission at the city power plant. On Saturday and Sunday night the new engine carried the city's load satisfactorily.

The response made Saturday and Sunday to the Roll Call appeal of the Danville Red Cross was encouraging. Mrs. C. A. Raine reported today. The matter was mentioned at several of the churches yesterday with a number of subscriptions taken up at the church lobbies after services. The lobbies are being maintained today and there is hope that the total number of members will reach nearly twelve hundred when final returns have been made to the chairwoman of the drive.

Reports received here today from Reidville were that Dr. S. G. Jett, well-known Reidville physician, hurt Sunday in an automobile collision between Leakeville and Martinsville, was greatly improved and that he suffered no vital injury in the crash, although he remained unconscious for several hours. Dr. Jett was on his way to Martinsville to meet his wife when his sedan car met another on a bad curve. Both cars were badly damaged and that driven by Dr. Jett overturned. He was at once sent back to his home where Dr. E. H. Miller saw him last night. It was first planned to bring him to a local hospital but this course was deferred when he rallied.

Further steps towards securing additional mail delivery in Danville are being taken today. A H. Simpson, postoffice inspector, arrived this morning to make a survey of the local field which has already been defined by the former postmaster. Danville is asking for two additional carriers in order to cover the city's delivery territory more effectively than has been possible hitherto. Mr. Simpson this morning said it would be probably a month or six weeks before any definite step is taken.

The criminal term of the Corporation which had been held open pending the disposition of several minor cases was formally adjourned this morning. The cases are carried over to the High School criminal term. Judge D. P. Withers hopes to be able to be out by the middle of this week. The last term of the court this year will be a civil term opening on the first Monday in December.

Education Week is being observed in Danville this week, especially at the schools where programmes are being arranged. The Danville Post-American Legion has also taken leadership in the local celebration. Exercises at the schools on Wednesday at 10 o'clock will find American Legion speakers in each of the schools. The High School will have a program at 8:30 o'clock at Schoolfield and on Thursday night at the same hour. H. M. Martin will speak at West End school Schoolfield.

W. P. Robinson Buried Sunday

The funeral of W. P. Robinson, well-known Confederate veteran of Danville, whose death occurred Friday night, was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Cabell Street Methodist Church. The services were conducted by Rev. Charles L. Garrison. The pallbearers were W. E. Hurd, A. H. Taylor, C. C. Starn, W. R. Furdum, F. J. Tucker and J. W. Davis. The honorary pallbearers included Mayor Harry Woodin, J. F. Fretwell, J. W. Abbott, Frank Hamilton, Dr. Dougherty and other Confederate Veterans.

The flowers were carried by T. C. Hurd, C. L. Norton, James Teatts, T. C. Oakley, W. F. Oakley, James Osborne, George W. Hadden and E. G. Mosley.

LOS ANGELES WATER SUPPLY IS CUT OFF

Raiders Standing Guard, Claim City Converting Valley Into Desert

(By The Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—How to restore without bloodshed the flow of water through Los Angeles' 350-mile aqueduct diverted into Owens river yesterday by raiders who swooped down on the river near Lone Pine near here, despite protests by city employees and Inyo county officials, was the problem that faced Los Angeles authorities today.

The raiders state that the gates would be closed until Los Angeles rights through the valley ranched. No attempt at forcible coercion of the raiders will be made by the city pending Governor Richardson's reply to an appeal for state troops. Los Angeles officials said, but 75 people were preparing to ask for injunctions to dispose of the raiders. Except for two, all the complaints are directed against "John Doe." The two named are M. Q. Watterson, a banker of B. Shop and W. R. McCarty, irrigation engineer.

As to the raiders' ultimatum William Mulholland, builder of the aqueduct and chief engineer of the city water department, declared it would be ignored.

Enough water is escaping through the waste gates, engineers estimated, to cause the loss of $10,000 daily, but sufficient storage is still on hand in reservoirs to supply ordinary demands for ninety days.

(By The Associated Press)
BISHOP, Calif., Nov. 17.—Los Angeles aqueduct waste gates near Lone Pine were captured yesterday by a small army of Owens Valley men who brushed aside city employees on guard and diverted Los Angeles chief source of water supply into the Owens river.

Determined to keep the water of the aqueduct flowing through the city, Los Angeles officials today held the long-standing water feud with valley ranchers in a manner acceptable to them, the raiders defied aqueduct authorities and the Inyo county sheriff to drive them out. The raid today had settled into an organized occupation backed by the efforts of several men and women.

Sixty men left on guard at the waste gates last night will be relieved today, Harry Glasscock, editor of the Owens Valley Herald and spokesman for the ranchers, told The Associated Press, and three after for as long as necessary. The guard will be maintained by relieving with fresh men every 24 hours. Should sixty men not be enough, the force would be increased, he said. Yesterday a hundred men held the gates. Trucks of food and supplies were sent last night.

Los Angeles water supply is assured for ninety days by water impounded at several sites along the aqueduct south of here. Inyo county authorities refrained from action pending the outcome of an appeal for state troops sent to Governor Friend W. Richardson by Sheriff Collins, who urged immediate use of troops as the only possible way of dispersing the raiders without bloodshed.

The ranchers maintain that the aqueduct has robbed their farms of water necessary for irrigation.

CHEST CAMPAIGN FOR $61,000 TO START TONIGHT

Workers Will Begin Can- vass in Earnest Tomorrow Morning.

With all preparations completed and with the largest team organization ever enrolled for a Community Chest campaign in Danville, the drive for $61,000 will get under way tonight with the call of all the workers at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 6 o'clock. The meeting is held mainly for the purpose of distributing the supplies that will be needed for the conduct of the drive and giving the workers instructions.

"We have made every effort," said Chairman A. A. Booth this morning, "to make the most complete and comprehensible canvass in the history of the Chest. The entire city has been districted so that each team will have a definite territory in which to work. In this way we hope to complete the work much more quickly and with much less effort on the part of the workers than has been possible heretofore."

"Our publicity this year," continued Mr. Booth, "and particularly through the newspapers has been splendid. There is no one in Danville, I believe, who has not heard about the Chest. The experience of the past two years has demonstrated that the Chest plan is the best, most efficient and most economical and social standpoint, and I hope that the people of Danville will respond liberally when called upon so that the work of the solicitors may be made easier and the fund assured for the next year."

The meeting tonight will be short, so that the workers may keep any other engagements they may have. She will start the campaign which will start in the morning. Preparations for this campaign which will start in the morning of the best known organizations performing charity or social welfare work have been going on for weeks and the city has been mapped out into teams and the canvass promises to be very complete.

Men and women in every walk of life realizing the responsibility of this campaign have pledged their time and service. The results of the campaign will be posted and all details and developments of the campaign freely discussed.

Miss Pattie Faulkner Dies in Halifax Co.

A message was received in this city last night, announcing the death of Miss Pattie Faulkner, at Halifax, Va., Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock.

Miss Faulkner was eighty-one years old, a native of Halifax county, the greater part of her useful life having been spent in Danville.

She will be recalled as having been associated with the Danville Orphanage almost from the day of its organization, to nearly the close of its existence when she never tired of rendering service in the need of friends more than at any period of its existence at some personal sacrifice. Miss Faulkner ministered to the comfort of the inmates in a motherly manner, she felt that no service that she could render was too much for her to contribute to the comfort of the children under her care.

She not only contributed her all to the maintenance of the institution, but by personal effort secured assistance from others in caring for the less fortunate ones in life. Her mission was that of rendering service to others, and she never tired of rendering service. The children of the orphanage loved her with a steadfast devotion for her motherly oversight and care of them.

A few years ago she retired from active life and returned to the home of her sister, in Halifax county where she spent the residue of her days on earth. She was the only living member of the family. She was a niece of Miss Faulkner, and she was a distant relative of Thomas Averett and his sister.

Miss Faulkner was for a number of years an active member of Main Street Methodist church of this city. The funeral service was conducted at Cedar Grove Methodist church in Halifax county today and her body laid to rest in the church cemetery there.

Rice, Father of Burlesque, Dies

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Edward E. Rice, veteran theatrical producer and known as the "father of burlesque," died at a hospital last night after a week's illness. He was 55 years old. The National Vandeville Association will conduct the services for him Tuesday morning.

"Evangeline," produced in 1874 was among his more important productions. Others were "Conrad the Corsair," "Hiawatha," and "Horrors." He was credited with having discovered many of the famous stars of the day, including Nat Goodwin, Lillian Russell and Will H. Crane.

ENGAGED?

Julius Fleischmann, yeast magnate, and Viola Kraus, New York society woman, are engaged, according to reports from Paris. Fleischmann's wife, Mrs. Laura Hempingway Fleischmann, divorced him in the French capital to marry Jay O'Brien, a dancer.

EXECUTIVES OF MANY STATES MEET IN FLORIDA

Welcoming Address Made By Governor Hardee of Florida

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 17.—There is no subject now before the people of the United States of greater importance than that concerning the conservation of natural resources. Florida is quite conspicuous in its declaration in welcoming governors of the various states assembled here today for the opening session of the sixteenth annual governors' conference. The session will continue through Tuesday after which the governors party will board a steamship for an all night trip up the St. Johns river to Sanford as the first leg of a tour of the southern part of the state.

Response to the address of welcome was made by Governor Preuss of Minnesota, after which the executives began a round table discussion of conservation of natural resources. Governor Hardee reminded the visiting chiefs of other states that their visit to Florida should be of especial interest both to themselves and to the people of this state, because "Florida is quite conspicuous in its citizenship. Perhaps as many as fifty per cent of the people of our state have come to us from other states of the union."

About a score of governors were on hand when the discussion began.

Spanish Shoes In Vogue Now

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—For spring Spanish shoes. The trend of fashion to the styles of the land of bull fights, was announced today by Mrs. Margaret H. Burke, managing director of the Textile Color Card Association.

"Black," the death knell, has been sounded, she said. "In the spring the girls will wear all colors, reds, greens and whites. And shoes, according to the Spanish will be plain—without more than one buckle, and sometimes none at all."

According to Mrs. Burke, the six favored colors for shoes will be: Light gray, known as Priscilla; medium gray, called English; sand shade, known as Sudan suede; medium brown, named Madrid; darker brown, called Vassar tan; and for men, rugby tan.

NUDE GIRLS PARADE AGAINST MORALITY

(Chicago Tribune Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Two entirely naked girls about 18 years old, walked the head of a Soviet propaganda parade against Christian morality at Tiflis last Sunday. The only strip of cloth each girl wore was a one-inch red ribbon with the words "No God" on one shoulder and another ribbon with the words "No Shame" over the other shoulder. Although the girls were a pretty sight, they disgusted many spectators who booed them and walked away. The day happened to be warm and sunshiny.

BORGLUM CAN'T APPEAR HERE

Telegram This Afternoon Advices Inability of Sculptor to Appear

Cutson Borglum, noted sculptor, who was to have given a lecture at Rison Park school tomorrow night under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association, will be unable to fill his engagement. It was learned in a telegram received here early this afternoon by Mrs. C. D. Gaver from the secretary of the sculptor in Atlanta. The telegram requested the association for cancellation of the engagement. Those who have purchased tickets will be refunded their money by those from whom they were purchased. The telegram received this afternoon follows:

"Mrs. C. D. Gaver.
"Serious matters in Atlanta make it absolutely necessary for Mr. Borglum to remain there and he will be unable to lecture in Danville. We deeply regret this and hope you will accept Mr. Borglum's apology."
"Lillian Taylor, Secretary."

Bartlett Tells Why Change Is Made In Office

(By GEORGE MANNING)
(Correspondent of The Bee)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—According to First Assistant Postmaster General John H. Bartlett, summary removal of Postmaster F. D. Lumpkin at Danville followed the disclosure of small irregularities and unbusinesslike methods on the part of some in the office.

"Will there be court action in this case?" The Bee correspondent asked. "There is no likelihood of it," was the reply. "There is no evidence, so far as we are advised, which would suggest such a course."

Inspector W. A. Sommers, who investigated the office, was in Danville at the time Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett signed an order for the removal of Lumpkin. The same order appointed Inspector Sommers to act as postmaster until such time as an examination can be held for the selection of a permanent postmaster.

News of the removal of Postmaster Lumpkin caused a sensation here, for the removal of the head of a first class office in a city of the size of Danville is quite unusual. In smaller offices the procedure is by no means novel.

Lumpkin has never been acting postmaster, due to the fact that he failed to land among the three eligibles when the civil service commission conducted an examination. He was allowed to serve indefinitely until now by virtue of his designation as acting postmaster.

Inspector Sommers probably will remain in charge of the office for several months, or until a civil service examination has been ordered and held and an eligible satisfactory to the Republican state chairman found.

Washington Official Unau- thorized to State Basis For Action Taken—Cas- sell's Status Is Not Af- fected.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Removal of Frank D. Lumpkin who has been acting postmaster at Danville, Virginia, for the last two years and the pending action of the Postoffice Inspector in charge of the office was made known today at the Postoffice department. The order merely stated the exigencies of the service required that an inspector be placed in charge.

Little further information was obtained this morning relative to the sudden action of the Postoffice Department in Washington which relieved Acting Postmaster F. D. Lumpkin of duty on Saturday evening. Postoffice Inspector W. A. Sommers who was sent here Saturday to take charge of the Danville office and who is still in charge of it said in response to questions this morning that he was not in a position to state the underlying cause of the department's action. The check-up if the Danville office, he declared, and he knew little beyond his instructions to come here and take charge until a new postmaster has been secured.

Assistant Postmaster J. G. Cassell has not been relieved if duty and was at his desk this morning. Mr. Lumpkin is not in town today. It is reported that he is in Lynchburg and that he will be back in Danville sometime after this morning, upon request, based on the following statement bearing on his assumption of control of the Danville postoffice and explaining also the present action of the Postoffice Inspector in Washington. Mr. Sommers, another postoffice inspector who is here on a routine matter and not, it is stated, with reference to the changes already made.

"United States Postoffice, Danville, Va., Nov. 17, 1924.
"Under order issued from the office of the Postmaster General, November 13, 1924, Walter A. Sommers, Postoffice Inspector, took charge of the postoffice at Danville, Va., at the close of the day of November 13, 1924, and will continue in charge of the said postoffice until the vacancy can be regularly filled, or until otherwise ordered.

This action relieved Acting Postmaster F. D. Lumpkin from the date of the transfer. J. G. Cassell is still the assistant postmaster, and in so far as known, no action has been taken by the Postoffice Department affecting his status.

"Postoffice Inspector A. M. Simpson arrived this morning to make an investigation of the city delivery service for the purpose of ascertaining what additional assistance may be necessary to provide adequate and complete service. This is a routine matter and will probably require several days. Any suggestions of the patrons of the office desire to submit with the view of improving the service will be gratefully appreciated."

"W. A. SOMMERS.
"Postoffice Inspector.
"Acting as Postmaster."

One thing was made clear at the postoffice this morning in the course of queries to whom were put to Mr. Sommers who is de facto postmaster at the present time. No charges have been brought against Mr. Lumpkin and so far as Mr. Sommers knows, he is a man of good character and one who he felt it imprudent to be quoted believe that some infraction of the rules and regulations governing the conduct of the business of the postoffice have been made, and he feels that the acting postmaster has indulged in economies in only some and is not confirmed in any official quarter. The postoffice inspectors, generally speaking, are not in the habit of making any statement bearing on the local affair and they insist that if any further explanation is to be made it must come from the Postoffice Department in Washington. Enquiries made yesterday at the Postoffice department in Washington revealed that First Assistant Postoffice General Bartlett is handling the Danville situation and that he was out of the city.

DANVILLE'S WAR TROPHY ALLOTMENT SCALED DOWN

Difficulties are beginning to inject themselves into the efforts being made by the Danville Chamber of Commerce to secure war trophies for Danville. With the verbal promise already given to this city of three pieces of field artillery by Assistant Adjutant General Lamesurier at Richmond, a telegram arrived this morning stating that a certain "light" machine gun, which had been promised to the city, had been found to be defective and would have to be scaled down. As a counter offer, Danville is offered a German mine thrower, a rather massive and long barreled piece and a couple of machine guns. Secretary Edward R. Diggs this morning replied to the telegram, requesting that the original allotment be adhered to, stating reasons why Danville should receive the three field pieces. One of these is that Danville gave more men to the world war than any other city according to its ratio of population. It put over all its bond drives, has the last seat of the Confederate government and a national cemetery. Mr. Diggs indicated today that he would consider were promised Danville. Other Virginia cities have been put in line for the trophies. The tentative allocation for Virginia has been made and contains a few large sized guns but a vast quantity of smaller objects which could not be exhibited in the open air. Mr. Diggs has been placed at the Virginia authorities, to say nothing of an artillery man or two or three hundred German and Austrian rifles, mortars, caissons, and other war trophies and lesser implements of war.

Motor-Route Via Danille Desired

Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce E. R. Diggs and Herbert M. Henkel, manager of the Hotel Burton and an active worker in the interest of highway development not only in this vicinity, but throughout the State, returned Saturday from a week's trip in the course of which they made a careful and even exhaustive survey and examination of the tourist route from Washington to Danville, via Richmond, in the course of their trip, the arrow signs pointing to Danville were posted all along the Richmond-Washington highway and by diligent inquiry the two Danville gentlemen satisfied themselves and found many people along the route, who are satisfied as to the superiority of the tour route via Danville and the continuous hard-surfaced highways across the State of North Carolina from this city and thence farther southward.

Mr. Henkel and Mr. Diggs went from Richmond to Washington via Bowling Green, Carolina county and they report that they found the entire road in excellent condition, as well as the route from Danville to Richmond via Keyesville, Burkeville, Wyalusing and other intervening points. On their return from Richmond to Danville they found the roads in fine condition, and while they were engaged in examining the route, taking up signs, etc., another local tourist reported having negotiated the distance from Danville to Richmond in four hours and 40 minutes. This route southward from Washington is not only superior to that via Petersburg, which that city has been striving to have adopted, but it is 27 miles shorter and the roads southward from Danville are superior to the route southward from Petersburg. The route via Danville and thence southward is the one in the new A. A. Motorist's guide and is in favor with south-bound tourists from Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio and New York.

While spending a week on the route, Mr. Henkel has distributed 5,000 signs between Danville and Richmond and then thousands northward from Richmond and many thousands road-cards were distributed or left for distribution to tourists at every roadside stop and filling station as well as in the city and town headquarters of motor tourists.

It is believed that substantial benefits to Danville and vicinity will result from the activities of the two gentlemen on the trip they have just completed.

Monday night only, John Golden's "7th Heaven."

Rudolph Valentino has three big love scenes in the motion picture version of Booth Tarkington's story, "Monsieur Beaucaire," coming to the Broadway Theatre Monday. Two of them are with Bebe Daniels and one is with Doris Kenyon. All three are what studio officials term "high-powered."

Valentino proves in his three love scenes, that he has not lost any of the ability to make love, which has made him one of the most fascinating and compelling screen stars of today. His first scene with the Princess (Bebe Daniels) ends successfully and sends him off to Bath, England. There he meets the lovely Lady Mary (Doris Kenyon) and the heart of this young Frenchman flutters momentarily. But his flight of fancy for the Princess still burns in his breast. The final love scene between the Duke and the Princess is said to be one of the most tender and most picturesque ever photographed for a motion picture. While the two lovers, in the Gardens of Versailles, are locked in each others arms, King Louis XV. and his court parade down the famous steps in the gardens, while sparkling water plunges down the cascades. It is a scene of great beauty.

Forrest Halsey, who adapted "The Humming Bird" to the screen, prepared the scenario for "Monsieur Beaucaire." The screen version of the popular story is said to be just as Tarkington wrote it originally. Bebe Daniels, Lois Wilson, Doris Kenyon and Lowell Sherman are featured in support of Valentino.

FIGHT OVER APPLES

VIENNA—Two eighty-year-old men who were bobbing for apples at a party for employees of a downtown shop became engaged in a fierce fight over the game. One of the elderly men claimed that his opponent was using his hand to snare the apple in the tub. Police were called to stop the quarrel.

"SEVENTH HEAVEN" AT THE MAJESTIC MONDAY NIGHT

John Golden, the New York producer of plays, has arranged for Danville to be one of the first cities outside New York to see his latest success "Seventh Heaven." That famous play with the prestige of two years as the dramatic success of two New York seasons will come to the Majestic tomorrow night.

"Seventh Heaven" has been for two years the most discussed play in New York. Although written by an American, as have been all of the other Golden plays, its action takes place in Paris. Mr. Suring has used the thrilling events of the Mobilization in 1914 and the Armistice in 1919 as a background for his principal theme, that of human courage. Produced originally as an American play, "Seventh Heaven" has outgrown race and language with the result that it will be presented in Russia by the Moscow Art Theatre, and in Paris by Andre Charlot, Mascagni, the Italian composer, who saw a script of the play became so much interested in it that he is now studying it with the idea of using its theme and story for a grand opera.

Great as has been Mr. Golden's success with such plays as "Lightnin'" now in its seventh year, and "The First Year" now in its fifth season, Mr. Golden believes that "Seventh Heaven" eventually will pass the records of these history-making successes. The company is one of the strongest ever assembled, with Remy Carpen, Douglas MacPherson, John W. Ransome, Mat Briggs, Mona Morgan, John Holmes, Ruth Morris, Gale Gordon and many others.

JACQUELINE LOGAN SUPPORTS DIX IN FIRST STAR PICTURE

Jacqueline Logan, last seen with Rod La Rocque in the Paramount picture, "Code of the Sea," returns to the screen at The Broadway Theatre on Thursday next in the leading woman's role in support of Richard Dix in his first Paramount starring picture, "Manhattan."

The production is an adaptation of Jeffery Farnols' popular novel, "The Definite Object," a story of New York's gang life, laid in "Hell's Kitchen." Miss Logan has the role of Mary, a girl-of the tenement district whom Dix, as Peter Minuit, meets through her youngest brother, Spike. It seems that he wants to show McGinnis, czar of all New York's gangland, just what he can do. He pussy-foots in through the window of Minuit's home to steal anything, just to show Bud he isn't yellow. Minuit catches him and thereby hangs a tale—the tale of "Manhattan," just about the fastest-moving and most entertaining crook drama that's ever reached the screen. R. H. Burnside directed.

Rolled hose uncover a multitude of stings.

Remy Carpen and Douglas MacPherson in "7th Heaven," coming to the Majestic tomorrow night.

EXCEPTIONALLY STRONG BILL AT THE MAJESTIC THIS WEEK

Ralph D. Tompkins, one-leg dancer, offers a snappy program of novelty jazz dancing that is a revelation to those who have seen only normal dancing. The balancing stunts and thrillers and the novelty of his act aside from its artistic aspect makes it one of rare merit.

Maru Tokoy, Japanese juggler, will offer a series of clever foot juggling features in his difficult work with brellas, barrels, etc. This presentation is one of the cleverest and most artistic of the better class stage attractions, and the patrons of the Majestic are assured of an unusual treat during the engagement of these exceptional entertainers.

The George Clifford Pep and Ginger Revue which is also on the bill for this week have an exceptionally high class miniature musical comedy. With several very snappy specialties, they have been proving very popular over the entire southern circuit. The moving picture program along with special music by Majesty orchestra under the direction of Mr. Leon S. Taylor should add greatly to the week's entertainment. The management feels that they have secured for this week the strongest variety program to be seen thus far this season at this popular playhouse.

SPECIAL CAST ASSEMBLED FOR "UNKNOWN PURPLE"

"The Unknown Purple," termed the season's most unusual mystery story, and which comes to the Broadway next Friday, is an adaptation of Roland West's sensational success of the same name.

The exceptional theme of the play called for artists of special ability in the portrayal of many of the roles and in the selection of the cast Director West was fortunate in obtaining the services of such proven talent as that of Henry B. Walthall, Alice Lake, Stuart Holmes, Ethel Grey Terry, Helen Ferguson, Brinsley Shaw, Richard Wayne, Little Frankie Lee, James Morrison, Johnny Arthur, and Mike Donlin. Each character in "The Unknown Purple" is a type, faithfully portrayed.

WOMEN WANT JOBS IN SLAUGHTER HOUSES

BERLIN—Women have taken a hand in most of the trades and professions in Germany since granted the right to vote, excepting the butcher business, and now they are endeavoring to get into that. Several strong-armed women have been advertising in Berlin newspapers recently for jobs in slaughter houses, contending that because of their physical development and inclination they are fully qualified to do the work of men.

It has been the custom for years to employ women and girls as clerks in retail meat shops and in sausage factories, but not until lately has there been any indications of women taking up work in the slaughter houses themselves.

A LAUGHING PLANT

CAIRO—A naturalist just returned from Arabia describes a plant called the "laughing cactus." The plant gets its name from the fact that anyone eating its seed gives way for some minutes afterwards to immoderate laughter, frequently ending in nervous prostration.

The natives of the district in which the plant flourishes dry the seeds and grind them into powder, which they keep, and on suitable occasions administer to those against whom they have a real or fancied grievance.

An overdose may result in temporary loss of reason, following which the victim falls into a deep sleep, awakening with no memory of his curious conduct.

FEDERATION OF LABOR BEGINS ANNUAL MEET

Spokesmen for 3,000,000 Workmen at the First Session

(By The Associated Press)
EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 17.—The forty-fourth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor opened here today.

Some 400 delegates, spokesmen for approximately 3,000,000 workers of the affiliated with 107 craft organizations, entered the initial session, faced with the task of shaping labor's program in industry, politics and civic enterprise for the coming year.

Debate in three departmental conferences fore cast a generally noted stand against wage reductions.

Larger interests of two nations centered in this district today, for as the American Federation opened its convention, the Mexican confederation of labor met in Juarez, across the international gridge.

The Mexican delegates today will march to Liberty Hall here for a joint session with the Americans. The American convention will move to Juarez for a joint session in the Juarez theatre tomorrow evening.

The report of the executive council, summarizing the work for the address of President Samuel Compers, and the address of welcome by Executive Committee member Slagle of Texas, will feature.

ACTORS STAGE FIGHT AT BALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Lowell Sherman, one of New York's best matinee idols, and George Baxter, also an actor, used their fists at the Actor's Equity ball which ended at the Hotel Astor early yesterday.

It was by Sherman's refusal to introduce Baxter to Miss Lillian Foster, appearing in a current Broadway show, according to Baxter. The fight started in Sherman's box, which he occupied with his mother and Nora Bayes. Ernest Borgnine occupied an adjoining box. Both Sherman and Baxter bore marks of the conflict. There was no complaint to the police.

John Saporsky was arrested on a charge of grand larceny on complaint of "Gentleman Jack" O'Brien, former pugilist, who claimed that $400 was nicked from his pocket during a fight that started when somebody knocked the tall hat off James E. Cabot, an actor.

Ed Gallagher, a newspaperman, was slashed with a razor after leaving the ball, and Charles Cambridge, a negro, was arrested.

PETERSBURG QUILTS VIRGINIA LEAGUE

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 17.—At the annual meeting of the Virginia League, which remained in session until a late hour to-night, the franchise of the Petersburg club was surrendered by its owners.

E. G. Jones, Richard H. Mann and Ed Konechky, representatives of the Coconide city, announced, after a lengthy discussion of their local situation that the owners of the Petersburg team would be unable to assume responsibility for the club's indebtedness of nearly $5,000 and would surrender their franchise. The team now becomes the property of the league until the franchise can be disposed of in some other city.

An attempt to elect a new president of the league to succeed W. S. Moye of Wilson, N. C., who has refused to be considered for re-election resulted in a deadlock between Norman H. Johnson of Richmond and W. C. Ebrahim of Raleigh, and after numerous ballots failed to resolve the situation the owners instructed Mr. Moye to continue temporarily in the office until a later meeting when the new president will be elected.

LOST SILVER MINE IS FOUND

Re-discovered After Trace of It Had Been Lost 60 Years

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—A silver mine, trace of which had been lost for 60 years, has been re-discovered on Catalina island, the California estate of William Wrigley, chewing gum magnate, and has been re-opened. It was learned here today.

Two carloads of ore have been assayed and show a yield of $6,500 to the car, Wrigley said today.

"It looks like a big thing," said Mr. Wrigley, "and I'm going to develop it for all its worth."

"The mine is about 25 miles from my home and about 2,000 feet up in the hills. When we found it the tunnel and the small shaft were in excellent condition and everything was ready to begin operations again."

The ready to begin operations again. The growth of underbrush h't it so well that I didn't know it was there.

The mine, Mr. Wrigley learned, was closed by the government in 1860 and during the mining excitement and a court decree fixed its ownership as that of the purchaser of the island, thus making it the exclusive property of Mr. Wrigley.

Inspector Has Orders To Act As Postmaster

The city At the department it was stated that Inspector Sommers had been placed in charge of the office "for the good of the service" and "to remain until business of the office is organized and moving smoothly."

Mr. Lumpkin on Saturday night indicated that politics was at the bottom of the movement to oust him. He also revealed that he had only recently become acquainted with the alleged movement to remove him from office. There is a reason to believe that he has been in conversation with Bascom Slem since last Saturday night and that the secretary to the president has been acquainted with Mr. Lumpkin's version of the affair. The two men are close personal friends and the Danville man is known to stand high in administrative circles.

The check-up which has been going on for several days, described as being ordinary procedure. Periodic checks of the fiscal affairs of every postoffice of size are made by inspectors and that which has been going on is regarded as one which usually takes place at this time of year.

How the situation will resolve itself is not clear at the present time. It is believed by Lumpkin's friends that he won't retire without a fight or that he will submit to the removal of that position if it is not surprising if the former acting postmaster makes some extended statement upon his return to Danville.

Mr. Sommers said this morning that he is prepared to remain here until an appointment has been made. Very probably a departmental appointment will be made by Postmaster General New. He might turn toward the chair for days or it may be delayed until the affair has been gone into more deeply.

Many people are under a misapprehension as to first class postmaster Sommers' status. They are not of the Civil Service. The late President Harding restored the appointment to the old basis and they are regarded now as largely political. Three examinations have been held in Danville during the past eighteen months. Men who passed these examinations and who are considered eligible are Charles G. Burton, Charles C. Pollock and Meade Flynn. Inspector Sommers was unable today to say how long he would remain in charge of the office.

SAYS DETECTIVE STOLE HIS WIFE

Instead of Trailing Robbers, Sleuth Ran Away With Man's Spouse

By A. J. LORENZ
(Universal Service Correspondent)
CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—While picking up clues to robbers in the home of George Ford, wealthy commission merchant, detective Sergeant Lindhe picked up a romantic infatuation for Mrs. Ford. Now other detectives have been placed on the trail not of the robbers, but of Detective Lindhe and Mrs. Ford who are believed to have gone to California.

Such was the background which Ford sketched for the authorities Saturday in requesting them to seek his wife and the detective.

"Last April there was a robbery at my home and Sergeant Lindhe was assigned to the case," Mr. Ford declared. "Instead of trailing the robbers he spent considerable time at the home, ostensibly picking up clues."

"Soon, I learned, my wife had become infatuated with Lindhe and their attentions grew so marked that our friends commented and warned me."

"We had been married twenty years and I thought the infatuation would pass over. We quarreled, however, and Mrs. Ford left, taking with her her new automobile and $7,000 worth of jewelry."

When Mr. Ford informed the authorities he was told that Sergeant Lindhe had also disappeared from his home.

"I am convinced she has fled to California, she always wanted to go there," Ford declared.

Mrs. Lindhe and her six-year-old daughter were heartbroken over the detective's disappearance. She, too, declared that she was convinced that Lindhe had eloped with Mrs. Ford.

"Oh, I knew about Mrs. Ford, everybody on Oak Park knew about it," said Mrs. Lindhe.

"Women whispered it to me and I hated them because I didn't want to believe it. I suppose it's true now."

Lindhe accompanied his wife and daughter to a matinee at the Armistice theatre and when he reached the theatre he suddenly remembered, Mrs. Lindhe declared, that he had forgotten a business appointment. He said he would meet them after the show, but would meet them at home they found that he had packed up his clothes "even to his bathing suit," Mrs. Lindhe said, and had left.

"Then I knew that had come," Mrs. Lindhe said, "although we are both praying that he'll come back."

CHOIR SINGERS GO ON STRIKE

Women Members Resent Being Called "Bobbed-Haired Sisses"

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Because they objected to being called "Bobbed-haired sisses," more than half the women members of the choir of Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal Church South have gone on a strike and declared they would sing no more at the church services.

The incident occurred last Sunday when Bruce Culpepper, an evangelist from Memphis, who is conducting revival services in the church, said, "I turned toward the choir and uttered a disparaging remark about their short tresses. Following the services the choir members held an indignation meeting and decided they would not participate so long as the offending evangelist occupies the pulpit."

The girls stuck to their guns and the services Monday night, Tuesday night and Wednesday night found them absent. At last night's service, the minister's attention, with the result that in his sermon he launched a new broadside against the bobbed-haired choir, in which he said:

"You bob your hair, but I do say it is unscriptural. You old-married women, who take up the fad, ought to be ashamed of yourselves. It is not so bad for a sixteen-year-old girl, but this made the choir singers angrier than ever. Efforts of the pastor of the church, Rev. William A. Lambeth, to persuade them to return to their work in the choir today were unavailing."

Liver Trouble Causes High Blood Pressure

Medical science knows that poisonous waste in our bodies would actually cause death in a few days if not eliminated by Nature's processes. Because it destroys these deadly poisons, the liver is our most important organ—the body's wonderful purifier.

The liver prevents the formation of body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and are chiefly responsible for premature old age.

When the liver becomes weak, the poisons are sucked up by the blood and health is broken down. Physicians claim that the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but a safe Nature substance has been discovered which will at once increase the vital bile supply. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regular. Bile purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each.

These genuine ox gall tablets are prepared only under the name "Dioxol." If any tablet is offered you under another name, refuse it. Accept only Dioxol in the original, genuine package—adv.

Carolina Man Seeks Lost Wife

C. O. Shaw, of 216 W. Fourth street, Charlotte, N. C., called at police headquarters Sunday morning to seek the aid of the department and the press in an effort to locate or discover the fate of his wife, Mrs. Cora Fay Shaw, known to her intimates as Cora Fay. Mrs. Shaw left Charlotte to go to Winston-Salem, N. C., on September 8th. Mr. Shaw had gone to South Carolina the day before. She actually went to Winston-Salem and spent several days there, but left there by automobile, since which time no trace of her has been discovered. Mr. Shaw is greatly concerned as to her safety and fears that she may have been kidnapped, being unable to account for her strange disappearance in any other way.

Mrs. Shaw is thus described, details being given in order to identify her: She is blond or light brown, 51 years old, but looks about 40; 5 feet 4 inches in height; weighed 168 pounds; has gray eyes and wore pinchnose glasses, pale complexion and has large mole on her back. Has a vaccination scar on left limb. Has all her natural teeth. Is fine milliner and seamstress. When last seen was dressed in brown frock, brown hat, black cape with gray lining; wore No. 5 low shoes or oxfords.

The husband, almost crazed by her strange disappearance, will welcome any information as to her whereabouts.

Gustav Karger Old Newspaper Man, Succumbs

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—After a final tribute here from his fellow newspapermen and those in public life with whom he had been closely associated for years, the body of Gustav J. Karger, veteran newspaperman of the Cincinnati Times-Star will be taken to Cincinnati for burial tomorrow.

Karger died yesterday at the age of 58. He had been in a serious condition for a week after an operation for appendicitis and gall stones, which was found necessary upon his return, less than two weeks from his travels incident to the presidential campaign. A special committee of the National Press Club, of which he was a former president, was to the funeral.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Medical science knows that poisonous waste in our bodies would actually cause death in a few days if not eliminated by Nature's processes. Because it destroys these deadly poisons, the liver is our most important organ—the body's wonderful purifier.

The liver prevents the formation of body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and are chiefly responsible for premature old age.

When the liver becomes weak, the poisons are sucked up by the blood and health is broken down. Physicians claim that the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but a safe Nature substance has been discovered which will at once increase the vital bile supply. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regular. Bile purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each.

These genuine ox gall tablets are prepared only under the name "Dioxol." If any tablet is offered you under another name, refuse it. Accept only Dioxol in the original, genuine package—adv.

BIRD HUNTING IS NOW LAWFUL SPORT

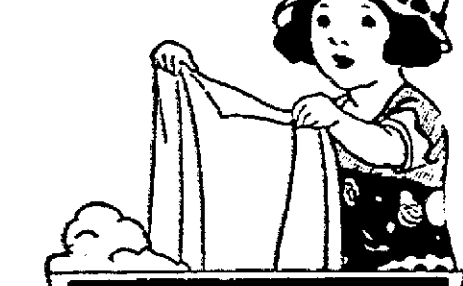

The hunting season for partridges and hares opened in this and most of the other counties yesterday, but the unfavorable weather deterred many sportsmen from availing themselves of the pastime and sport on the opening day. Among those who went out to take a crack at the birds were J. Burton Redd and S. H. Boyd who spent about four hours in the field on Mr. Boyd's farm four miles east or northeast of Cascade. The two gunner bagged a total of twenty partridges and three rabbits, breaking even on the number of birds, but Mr. Boyd, the host getting two of the three hares. One peculiar phase of the hunt was the fact that a large majority of the birds bagged were the cocks or male partridges.

That the birds are rather abundant this season is reported from various sections. Personal traveling in motor-cars in the northern part of the county recently report having seen coveys of birds alight in the road directly in front of them.

Cynthia Grey Says:

Whatever you do, don't pity the spinster. She may not have a home of her own but her life is hers.

She has read the Constitution of this United States and agrees with it. That every girl is entitled to "life, liberty and the pursuit of eligible bachelors."

She has never had to get dinner and rock the baby with one hand while powdering her nose and brushing her hair with the other, to keep from looking a perfect fright when hubby comes home at night.

Nor has she ever had to get breakfast, bathe the baby, and bring in the milk with one hand while powdering her nose and brushing her hair with the other, to keep from looking a perfect fright when hubby wakes up in the morning.

She knows that a man's idea of a wife is his boarding-house keeper.... and she will not be it.

QUESTIONS—ANSWERS
Dear Miss Grey: My wife is suspicious. Whenever I am not home right on the dot she cross-questions me like a lawyer. Do you suppose she could be this way with whatever man she happened to marry or is she just suspicious of me?—Harry.

If you have never done anything to make your wife jealous, it must be that she is naturally a suspicious person. Why don't you tell her that whenever you do something that isn't just right you are going to have the courage to tell her about it?

Dear Miss Grey: I am engaged to a girl who knows that we can't afford to be married for at least two years. She insists upon accepting invitations from other men. How can I stop her?—G. B. S.

You can't, of course. A great many women take the attitude that they are protecting themselves by such a course. They figure that if the engagement is broken they are not left so forlorn as though they had no other men friends. It's a wrong attitude where a really serious engagement exists. Are you sure your fiancée is serious?

DARTMOUTH UNBEATEN NOW HAS ILLINOIS' SCALP

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Dartmouth's unbeaten football eleven used the forward pass to defeat a crashing Cornell team here this afternoon, 27 to 15. Red Hall passed to Dooley for the Green's third touchdown.
Cornell's two touchdowns came from remarkable advances down the field of 78 and 68 yards.

The Tangle

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

I had said nothing, Leslie, while the girl was telling her story and here she looked up quickly and asked if she were boring me.

"No, no. Go on! I am most interested," I exclaimed.

"And so the time went on, Mrs. Burke," she continued, "until one day I was out doing some shopping alone when I met Mr. Stores on the Rue de la Paix. He said he would ride home with me to luncheon but when we got into the town car he told the chauffeur to drive through the Bois.

"Then without any preamble he told me he loved me and asked me to help him kidnap the child and go away with him. He had a mad plan to go to the west coast of Africa, where he said no one would look for us."

"Of course I told him it was impossible, which turned him into a wild man. For a while I fought silently but at last I had to ask the chauffeur to let me out of the car. "The man, although shut off from us by glass, must have known something was wrong, for he promptly stopped the car, although Mr. Stores shouted for him to drive on."

"I managed to get myself away from my employer's clinging hands and almost before the motor had stopped I was on the ground."

"I slammed the door, for Mr. Stores was trying to get out after me, telling the chauffeur to drive his master home as I thought he had suddenly gone mad."

"For days afterward I was on a ship sailing for America. When I arrived I did not know what to do. I had very little money and I knew absolutely no one in this country."

"Harry had never told me anything about his friends. I had never known until he died that he had been married to you. I had no references and I knew that no one would take an utter stranger into his home without one."

"Then I thought of the kindest, tenderest and most loyal woman in all the world and I have brought my letter—the letter which was put into my hands by my dying brother—to you."

Leslie, the girl is really quite wonderful and I have been thinking that perhaps you might want her as a nursery governess for little Jack, especially as very soon more or less of your time will have to be given to your new baby."

There is much more to tell you and some day I want you to hear poor Harry's pitiful last letter, but just now I wish you would think this over and answer as soon as possible, for although Zoe and I have become great friends, she is not very happy, being what she calls, dependent on me.

Sincerely,
RUTH.

KISSING—THE LANGUAGE OF LOVE

BY EDNA PURDY WALSH
Kissing is the language of love because our lips register our emotions sooner than other parts of the face or body.
The nerve-ends in the lips are so sensitive that they can feel the faintest thrill of life as well as the sorrow and the sternness.
Lips are the sensitive crystal of our life radio, set to feel and search for the love message that belongs to us and to us alone.
Ah, how many times we try for our own perfect message. How determined we are to find the one sound that satisfies our intellect, our spirit and our body, all in one perfect love, just how determined we are to find that love and that love alone, is told in graphic language in the lips.
The lips who cannot wait very long for their song will tune in too soon on love's radio, and receive someone else's message, sweet, but partly clouded by strange sounds.
They are the impulsive lips. They are pursued out in the center, held almost in the kissing position. The upper lip is short and full, and not very wide.
They seem to be waiting for kisses, and because impulsive and emotional the life more than deep, steady, cool thought, they take their kisses impulsively also.
The upper lip that is longer, held down firmly, with the red part concealed, is not as quick to tune in for this love message. He wants it, but he wants it so deeply that he hesitates, and sometimes waits too long. His emotions cease to register, because he does not use them. He must build the world's bridges, and do life's stern work, without letting his desires rule his life.
But nature is the supreme goddess of love. She does not want us to be all impulsive love, neither does she want us to be all cool, hard, firm intellect.
So she cleverly sets a trap, and makes a chemical affair between the impulsive, warm, pursed full lips, and the thin firm ones held down in place by determination.
All this so that children who follow will know what he is to both think and feel, to love better because of mental thought, and to think better because of love.

HANKERS TO TAKE WHEEL HIMSELF

(By Universal Service.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The man who is driven to his office in a big limousine behind a liveried chauffeur does it mainly for the sake of the chauffeur. He gives him. Down in his heart he has a hankering to take the wheel himself—and he does it, often as not.

Fact, four out of six men, and one out of three women can drive an automobile, whether they own one or not.
These are auto facts which were disclosed before the convention of the National Association of Taxicab Owners today. Lee L. Miles, head of a "dri-jit-yourself" system, told of the survey he had made.

He found that any number of men are whisked down to their offices in big expensive cars by their chauffeurs. Then they dismiss their chauffeurs and if they get a chance they rent an automobile and drive it themselves. The fact is they like the thrill of driving, they want to test their ability in the traffic.

Your lot could be much worse, comforts Dr. Hawkins. Suppose you were a germ and it took a million of you to make one man sick.

MAKES FAT PEOPLE SLIM

New York Physician Perfects Harmless Method of Reducing Weight

The loss of as much as a pound of excess fat a day with no harmful results is the record made by many of Dr. R. Newman, a licensed practicing physician of 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which has quickly rid fat people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the Doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction without change of diet or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh. Realizing that this sound almost too good to be true, the Doctor has offered to send without charge to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay-when-reduced" plan. If you want to rid yourself of superfluous fat write him today, addressing Dr. R. Newman, 286 Fifth Avenue New York City, Dept. R-45—adv.

Boys' Conference Has a Great Day

Undeterred by weather conditions in the forenoon, or by anything else for that matter, the youths and boys of Danville attending the Older Boys' Conference under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association put in another busy day Saturday—morning, afternoon and evening. According to Jack Whittington, Boys' work secretary of the local Y, the number of out-of-town youth attending the conference is between 80 and 100, and nearer the hundred. It is not a State conference, but is largely drawn from the county of Pittsylvania, with a sprinkling of boys from outside points, such as Roanoke and others.

A two hour conference was held from 10.15 to 12.15 in which the group was divided into sections, with a speaker and leader for each in exposition of the phases of the work. The afternoon was devoted to recreation and amusement, the swimming pool, gym and all the facilities of the Schoolfield Y and of the Danville Y being at the disposition of the lads. This was the bright, particular play section of the program and was particularly enjoyed by the study and mainly group of boys from rural points. In the evening a conference banquet was held in the auditorium of the Y M C A, with a full house and with rousing enthusiasm prevailing among the boys. A serious and even inspirational address was made by Burt S. Fenn, formerly for five years engaged in the foreign work of the Y, the big task of the association. At its conclusion State Boys' Work Secretary Fred Thompson stressed the serious mood of the moment and dismissed the audience with a short prayer by Mr. Fenn. Briefly sketched, that was the way the day was spent, but it is only a glimpse of it, with no conception of the enthusiasm, the earnestness and the pleasure of the delegates. The Danville older boys in large numbers have attended all the sessions and their kindly and generous thoughtfulness of the visitors have been in evidence at every session. Amid all other oratorical and hortatory phases of the conference singing has been a feature, this led by Mr. B. Blayney, Mr. Douglas and others and participated in with refreshing zest by all the boys.

In the opening session held in the Welfare building at Schoolfield, the inability of B. V. Miles, of Richmond, to get here caused the theme "Our Task in Home Missions" to be omitted. The ensuing two hours spent in sectional conferences led by D. V. Blayney and P. E. Loope for the employed boys and by C. B. Loomis for the high school group. After lunch, the entire bunch of boys plunged into the recreational program and extracted all the fun and pleasure out of it a group of enthusiastic youths can derive.

The conference banquet was the closing and the crowning feature of the day. George P. Geoghegan, Jr. of this city a well known and active worker in Sunday school, religious, business and boy-life activities, presided. The speakers and the adult visitors generally occupied seats on the rostrum. There was one exception—Jack Whittington "the man behind the gun" in making the conference go with a bang, but he had a seat at the first floor-table where he could see and reach all the local boys. Mr. Whittington has for weeks been working to promote and assure the success of the conference, notably in securing the attendance of good delegates from the various county high schools an agency through which systematic boys' work is being inaugurated at every high school throughout this great county.

As for dinner, the menu was all that could be desired, with an excellent salad course, meat and vegetables and an ice course, with chocolate as a beverage. This dinner was served by an organization of ladies from the Patton Street Christian church, and was admirably served. Of course, the list of girls serving was augmented by several from other churches, and the boys were "tuckered to death," figuratively. They testified by deafening Rah-rah shouts, loved by the name of each of the young ladies their enthusiastic approval and particularly complimented several. But the Rah-rah group also complimented the leaders and speakers and some of the visitors and withal were generous and courteous with their kindly manifestations in no uncertain tones just how grateful the boys were.

The serious phase of the evening was the address of some thirty or forty minutes by Burt S. Fenn, now general secretary of the Norfolk Y, but a former world-worker in the China field. The speaker gave a comprehensive idea of the methods being employed by this chosen agency for the evangelization of the populous country and cited some of the perils and difficulties encountered, but withal he showed how through service the Christian evangelization agencies are reaching the Chinese leaders and through them the masses. Incidentally he showed that the Chinese are over-run by service workers and enthusiastic contributors to the cause through which this great humane and Christianizing service was winning China to Christianity. He had been located at Poochow and Shanghai and had visited many points. The speaker might have talked about many other phases of life and work in China, but he treated his theme seriously and in an informing and impressive manner, and he did impress every boy present. In closing he appealed to the boys individually to take this great opportunity upon their hearts and expressed the hope that some present might feel impelled to participate in this large and definite phase of service to humanity and to Christ.

Very appropriately, at the conclusion of this address, Mr. Thompson, the big chief, as the boys call their State secretary, dismissed them with injunctions to go out quietly and thoughtfully.

A resolution committee was announced, consisting of B. B. Bland, of Ferrum; Mr. Graddock, of Lynchburg, and Mr. Taylor of Roanoke, who will submit their report to one of the sessions today.

Among the leaders in boys' work attending and participating in the conference are C. B. Loomis, of Atlanta; B. S. Fenn, of Norfolk; W. C. Miller, of Richmond; D. V. Blayney, of Richmond; L. H. Benton and H. M. Douglass, of Schoolfield; P. F. Loope, of Roanoke; Fred D. Thompson G. L. Sutherland, of Petersburg;

Chiropractic For That Cold

QUESTION—"About this time every year I am threatened with Pneumonia after a siege of continued colds. Should I take you long to correct my trouble?"

It will then be a matter of taking Adjustments regularly until the cause has been corrected. SID TALLEY IS BITTEN BY A BIG MOCCASIN SNAKE

Sid Talley, who resides on the farm of Houch Dix, near Stokesland, was severely bitten by a big highland moccasin Saturday about noon. The hounds trailed a rabbit into a hole in a field near the house and the two followed the dogs to make investigation. Talley thrust his hand into the hole and secured the rabbit, but discovered that something had bitten him on the middle finger near the knuckle. A hoe was secured and investigation proved that the snake which did the biting and the rabbit were abiding in the same hole.

Dr. W. B. Sager was at once called and gave the injured man all necessary treatment. Dr. Sager after treating Mr. Talley, measured the snake, which proved to be two and a half feet long and of unusually large size in body. The patient was reported as doing well.

The Ideal Home

THE mere spending of a great deal of money will not necessarily create the ideal home; the secret lies in good taste—in the art of selection which chooses the right furniture for the right place.

Combining, as it does, beauty of design with sound quality of material and workmanship, the furniture we offer is the "right" furniture, and, IT IS NOT EXPENSIVE.

Comparing the eye to a camera, the light passes through the objective lens, focuses and forms a picture on the sensitive plate in the camera. In the same way the light passes through the pupil focuses and forms a picture on the retina in the eye. The retina is the end of the optic nerve, spread out in the eye-ball like an opened blossom where it enters through an opening in the back wall of the eye-ball. The picture formed is telegraphed, so to speak, to the brain, through the optic nerve and the mind interprets the picture and this is the way we see.

The world hyperopia comes from two Greek words (hyper-over and opsis) which means the focal length of the pencil of light which enters the eye is over or longer than the diameter of the eyeball measured through the pupil.

Showing hyperopia, or far-sighted eye, the rays of light focus behind the retina, or back wall.

Showing far-sighted eye, corrected with a convex lens by bringing the focus forward on the retina.

The common symptoms of hyperopia, called far-sightedness are:

The patient sees well at a distance but has difficulty in seeing near objects such as reading or sewing and since the hyperopia can be corrected more or less by the focusing apparatus if the error be of a low degree no ill effect may for some time be noticed; at length, however, a point is reached when the focusing muscles are not equal to the occasion and eye-strain with its train of evils results. This is liable to show itself after an illness, worry or other causes. The patient complains that after reading for some time, especially at night, the type blurs, resting awhile the reading may be resumed, to be again laid aside from a repetition of the dizziness. The eye aches, feels sore, etc., frequently headaches supervene and there is a feeling of weight about the eyelids. School children suffering from hyperopia have a distaste for study and are stupid because the thought centers in the brain do not properly function.

The eyes of the new born are hyperopic; such eyes are supposed to grow in length from front to back, and at adolescence to reach the normal stage of development. It is a well-known fact that this ideal normal condition is rarely attained, the length of the eye-ball not increasing in proportion to the focusing apparatus.

Hyperopia is the most prevalent eye defect and occurs in 33 per cent. of all eyes.

If your eyes bother you in any way, if they tire quickly or become inflamed, if you do not see easily and well, if headaches impair your efficiency or interfere with your pleasure, if you cannot enjoy every minute of your reading, call immediately.

Box Step in Tango Blues

THE FOURTH STEP OF THE "TANGO BLUES"

By ARTHUR MURRAY
Director, National Institute of Social Dancing

The dance music of today may be divided into two tempos: fast and slow time. The fast time is almost like a one step. It is played most frequently by orchestras, much to the discomfort of the dancers. Fast music enables an orchestra, especially over the radio or in concert music, to play to their advantage, musically. But the dancers must either race themselves almost to death or walk. The result is that when dancing to certain orchestras, one can do nothing but walking steps and walking turns.

The "slow" or "blues" tempo goes to the other extreme. It is often referred to as "miserable time." The blues tempo is about half as fast as the regular or quick time and closely resembles the rhythm of the tango.

The tango blues is made up of a number of popular easy tango steps, which I have arranged to blues or slow fox trot time.

In this lesson I will teach you the box step, one of the favorites of the college set.

If you are a beginner, you need not be afraid to attempt the tango or any other advanced steps. In order to do so, even the most difficult ball room movements, all you need is confidence in yourself and the confidence of your partner. To be a confident dancer you must actually know the steps. You must know exactly how each step is taken. If you don't know, how can your partner follow you?

If you will follow my instructions word for word you will learn in a surprisingly short time. When I say that you can learn more quickly through my diagram method than through a personal instructor, you may laugh. But try these steps and you will see that the printed word is more forceful than the spoken word. You will realize that anything you see in print makes a more lasting impression on your mind than anything you may hear. Be actual tests. I have conclusively proven that I can teach the tango blues or any other dance more quickly through diagrams than I can by personally showing the steps.

It ordinarily takes ten minutes to learn a new step. But through this method, which you can learn the same step in five minutes or less. Try it.

The box step is one of the most important steps. It is the basis for the tango and the waltz. It is the foundation of the tango blues. The box step is very simple, but should be practiced until you can do it rapidly and smoothly. Stand in the lower right hand corner of the square, heels together and toes outward.

1. Step directly forward with right foot.

2. Step with left foot diagonally across the square to the upper left-hand corner.

3. Draw the right foot up to the left, placing the weight on the right foot. Note that heels are together.

After doing the first three steps of the box, you have completed one waltz step. (You should be standing in the upper left-hand corner of the square.)

4. Step directly backward with the left foot.

5. With the right foot, step diagonally backward to the lower right-hand corner.

6. Draw the left foot up to the right, placing the weight down on the left. That's all.

Now, go back to the beginning and do all six steps without stopping. It is easier than you think. You can learn to do it in five minutes, but you should practice to gain ease and grace.

After you have mastered the movements, bear in mind that when dancing to music, you should give more time to the first and fourth steps than to the other steps. In other words, when you do the first and fourth steps, do them very slowly; in the box step, do them very slowly; in the box step, do them very slowly.

The lady's part is exactly the same as the man's.

THE NEXT LESSON—"The Waltz Tango."

EMISSARY OF SANTA CLAUS PASSES AWAY

Idol of Children For Whom He Made Toys

Dies

By CORINNE RICH

(Universal Service Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Santa

Claus is dead.

All day long there was quiet in a little house in Williamsburg. There was no rat-tat-tat of hammer coming from the workbench in a back room; no song of merriment from the children; no babbling of children's voices.

Children were there, yes. But the smile was gone from their lips and amazement rounded their eyes. They stood in knots in the yard, on offense would seem to have gained ground to earn first down.

Question—In the case of a team trying for first down a foul occurs. But the third down, four yards to go. But the foul occurred a back has run thirty yards. The holding occurred at the point to which the back had run. What is the down and from what spot is penalty applied?

Answer—If the first down because the holding occurred at the farthest advance of the back. Since the penalty is measured from the spot of the foul it is clear that in taking the ball back fifteen yards the team on offense would seem to have gained ground to earn first down.

Question—Team A on defense commits a foul. She commits this foul on the one yard line and the penalty would result in the ball going over the goal for a score. Is this a touchdown foul or not?

Answer—No. No score may be made in this way. Ball moved to half distance to goal no matter how small distance may be.

Question—Have Yale and Notre Dame ever played a football game?

400-YEAR-OLD DISEASE (World-Wide News Service) BERLIN - A mysterious illness has attacked many inhabitants on the coast of the Baltic, a freshwater lake connected with the sea near Danzing. It takes the form of sudden paralysis. Fishermen have been attacked by it while out rowing. In some cases it has proved fatal.

The origin of the disease cannot be traced. Records show that there was a similar epidemic in the district nearly 400 years ago in 1529, and the recurrence of the disease has caused much alarm.

DAILY PUZZLE

The drawing shows ten checkers lettered from A to J. The problem is to set them so they form "kings," namely, one checker on another, as shown in the corner drawing. In making the "kings," pick up any checker you choose; but you must place it over two checkers, in either direction, before you set it on another checker. The procedure must be repeated until all five "kings" are formed. A "king," naturally, counts as two checkers.

The puzzle looks easy; but it is not. Try it!

Yesterday's Answer: "With high IDEALS for hearts and hands. These LADIES SAILED for distant lands. The words: Ideals, ladies, and sailed, are all spelled with the same six letters.
